Help to organize rural life and make the country a better place in which to live.

Over production is the stumbling block, and systematic marketing the stepping stone of agriculture.

To eliminate waste and inefficiency in marketing, the farmer should keep in close touch with market conditions.

The problem of marketing is the biggest business proposition of any age or nation and one that will require the combined efforts of all the agencies of civilization to solve.

It must go hard with the Detroit News these days having to admit that automobiles and not street cars are responsible for the many accidents that are occuring. If auto drivers would come one-half as near complying with the traffic laws as do the D. U. R motormen, this daily casulty list would be greatly reduced if not entirely eliminated.

Farmers, generally speaking, little realize how difficult it is for people living right here in Farmington, to get the very things that the farmer is wishing a market for. Apples and potatoes by the bushel, as well as squash, pumpkins and many other things, would we are sure find a ready market with a great many Farmington housekeepers. The next time you get a off day, Mr. Farmer, bring in a load, and try offering it direct to the consumers, and I don't believe you will be disappointed at the result.

These crusades "Buy American Made Goods," or "Made in Michigan products, can be boiled down even finer, in nearly every city and town in the country to a certain extent. In nearly every town in the country some article or articles are created or manufactured, and you who live in that particular town should "Buy Home Made Goods." Right here in Farmington, it is true that very little manufacturing is carried on. You should, however try and buy Farmington grown fruits and vegetables so far as is possible, and it might also be well to remember that Farmington flour is mostly made from home grown wheat and better yet made right here at home. It will help your neighbor, your town and you.

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The Sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste, make Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

If the first box fails to benefit, the price is returned. Ask your druggist. A box of 25 doses costs only 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

Chip on the Shoulder.

"We love and we value peace," said Jefferson. "We know its blessings and experience; we abhor the follies of war, and are not untried in its distresses and calamities." A God-fearing nation confides in its strength without boasting of it and respects that of others without fearing it. The weak nation, like the weak man, carries a chip on the shoulder.

Klaw and Erlanger's World's Fair Production of "BEN HUR."

Season's Greatest Sensation

Beautiful women, men majestic of mein, fiery horses, bedecked in all the opulent splendor of the Orient, will give life and brilliance to the scenes of General Wallace's "Ben-Hur" in the new Panama Pacific World's Fair staging of that play which Klaw and Erlanger will offer at the Detroit Opera House, Detroit, Michigan, the entire week of November 9 to 14, with special matinee performances on Wednesday and Saturday. Other productions of "Ben-Hur" have set the country agape at their pictorial beauty, but all these precedents set by Klaw and Erlanger themselves have been cast into the shadow by the elevation and dignity the pomp and grandeur of the new production. "Ben-Hur" has often been exploited in these columns as a romance of might and splendor, that gained accumulated strength and glory in dramatization. So masterly is the preservation of the purpose of the work in scenic settings that the original beauties of the theme, so deftly penned by the late Gen. Lew Wallace, and dramatized by William Young, are reproduced with wonderful correctness in every detail. From a religious standpoint, whence the spectacle is more often viewed than any other, "Ben-Hur" is a succession of brilliant pictures regarding the incidents of the time of Christ upon earth, which are a form of instruction. In fact it is the beautiful religious sentiment which dominates the entire drama, that makes it so popular with the thousands of people who do not attend the theatre as a rule on account of religous scruples.

A splendid cast has been engaged to interpert the drama, including Richard Buhler, John Milton, Walter M. Sherwin Leslie Stowe, George Sydenham, Herbert De Guerre, Cassius M. Quinby, Frederick Carlton, John Hagan, Cecil Sully, Louise Hamilton, Mary Gondon, Alice Haynes, Mavde Ream Stover and Martha Boucher

Seats for "Ben-Hur" will be placed on sale Thursday morning: November 5, at 9 a. m. at the Detroit Opera House box office, The following scale of prices will cover all performances: Entire Lower Floor, $1.50; entire Balcony, $1.00; Gallery, (not reserved) 50c. Mail orders accompanied by remittance and self-addressed stamped envelope will be given immediate attention.
