Devoted to the upbuilding of Farmington and Oakland County

Anyway it doesn't cost as much to wish your friends and relatives a Happy New Year as it does during the reign of Santa Claus and a Merry Christmas.

His British Majesty's submarine B-11 has performed a feat of arms that would cover with glory a decently named vessel.—South Lyon Herald. What the B-11.

For once the ice man (who has not yet put up his ice) and the coal man are on friendly terms, and agreed that they are not in any rush for warmer weather.

The fact that Theodore Roosevelt has expressed an opinion that the United States army and navy should have gone to the rescue of Belgium during her recent invasion, does not alter a lot of opinions that the Colonel might again be mistaken.

Those people who have been predicting that the Thaw millions were about exhausted won't find much consolation in reading that Harry wired a casual acquaintance a loan of $400 the first of the week. There are those, too, who will assert that he should at once go back to the asylum after such an act.

Just as it is in many other things, quality and not quantity comes first in New Year Resolutions, not only in the making, but the keeping. "How easy to make!"—"How hard to keep!" is an old story handed down from year to year. Better to make one good resolve and keep it, than a hundred only to be broken, after the newness has worn off.

There's a note of encouragement for all of Oakland County, in the very much predicted, and practically assured, fact, that within sixty days at most, business will be back at normal, with shops running full blast at the county seat. Several manufacturing establishments have already reopened, and others are planning to do so within a short time. It means a great deal to Pontiac, and it means something to every village and township in the county, as a certain amount of this renewed prosperity cannot help but leak out into all parts of the county.

What She Wanted

"I want to stop my baby's cough," said a young mother Tuesday, "but I won't give him any harmful drugs." She bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It loosens the cough quickly, stimulates the mucus membrane, and helps throw off the choking secretion, eases pain and gives the child normal rest. Sold by T. H. McGee.

For Sale—Three brood sows. Enquire of Albert Sulkowski.

For Sale—West Point Hard Coal Base Burner. Cheap for cash and quick sale. Enquire at this office.

Salesman Wanted—to look after our interest in Oakland and adjacent counties. Salary by commission. Address The Harvey Oil Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Lost—Between old Fair grounds and Farmington, a pair of eye glasses with the name of Gordon Parker on the case. A reward will be given if returned to R. G. Adams' residence, Farmington

Mrs. Mary Power of Detroit was visiting with friends and relatives the past several days.

John Lapham and family have removed into their new brick residence on Grand River Avenue.

J. C. McDermott, who has been spending the holidays with relatives, has returned to his home at Durand.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. John Power and son Percy spent Christmas day at the home of James Hendryx.

Mrs. N. H. Power of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Francis, and Mrs. John Power and son Percy, were New Year's guests at the home of James Hendryx.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyes Steele entertained the Steele and Kennedy families; Christmas evening. A Christmas tree and program were much enjoyed by all present.

"Neatly a hundred customers, and more new ones every day", is the way John H. Johnson, the new milk dealer expressed the situation the other morning. And the best of it is that they're all satisfied and boosting.

The date of the next Dancing Party to be given by the Harmony Club, has been announced for Friday, February 5th. Ralph Hoyle, who is in charge of the arrangements, announces that something extraordinary can be expected by the guests fortunate enough to secure invitations.

After loading some corn stalks onto a wagon last Sunday, Jud Jones, who lives near here, threw the fork up onto the load and clambered on. The team immediately started, throwing Jones, who fell upon the prongs of the fork, two of them passing into the stomach and bowels. He is at present in a precarious condition at his home.

Miss Norma McLadoo entertained a club comprised of a number of her girl friends, at the home of her parents, near Clarenceville, Wednesday evening. A trip through the boys home, of which her father is superintendent, was one of the interesting features provided by the hostess, and a dinner served during the course of the evening. The party returned on the nine o'clock car.

The remains of John Truscott, well known here, passed through here today enroute to Wayne, where they will be interred following the funeral services at Pontiac the same day, where he has of late years made his home. He had been in poor health for several years past. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McGee, and the former's sister, Mrs. Truscott, wife of the deceased, attended the services and accompanied the remains to their final resting place.

John Hitchen of Detroit, superintendent of the Michigan Edison Company, left his Cadillac roadster standing in front of his office at Detroit Friday morning. Thirty minutes later when he went to get it, it had disappeared. He later started for Farmington on the car, and while riding along recognized his car, being drove alongside by some young fellow. Upon arriving at Farmington he telephoned to Redford to detain the thief. He had not been caught at the hour of going to press. One of the amusing incidents of the robbery was the fact the thief, passing a number of Michigan Edison workmen, walking, stopped and gave them a ride into the village.

Truth.

Will Submit Local Option

Advices coming from the county seat at the hour of going to press, are to the effect that the special committee, appointed by the Board of Supervisors to examine the local option petitions, relative to their validity, have reported that there are sufficient valid names on the petitions, which means that the Board of Supervisors will have no choice, but to compel the submission of the matter to a vote in the Spring election.

Attorney James Lynch, who appears for the liquor dealers, has made it known that he will carry the matter to the supreme court, and hopes to secure an immediate ruling.

If his contentions are correct, sufficient names could be thrown out to kill the petition for option.

CONFISCATE THE EDITION.

Newspaper Issues Often Suppressed by the Austrian Censors.

"By order of the 'royal press court' this issue of your paper is hereby confiscated for printing news which the court considers should not be made public." A policeman, with a sword dangling at his side and holding in his hand an official document with a red posting seal on it, enters the managing editor's room and delivers the decree.

It is the famous Austrian press censorship and confiscation machine, called for short the "censorship apparatus," at work. Down below the big presses are thundering along on the last few thousand copies of a big circulation. It is 3 o'clock in the morning—too late to "make over" by tearing out the offending article or news item, putting something else in its place and reprinting the entire edition.

From the numerous rooms which make up the editorial sanctum three rolls on "Donngewitter" and "Verdamm!" after another. The managing editor orders a small sheet, not much larger than a handbill, hastily printed, that will tell the subscribers why they will not receive their paper that morning.

This is a scene which has taken place frequently in Viennese newspaper offices lately. One afternoon recently the editions of five evening papers were confiscated. Probably reporters in the world can tell us many interesting stories of news that never reached their readers as the Viennese.

From an American viewpoint of a free press the Austrian press laws, censorship and "confiscation apparatus" is about the most absurd and antiquated institutions in existence. Apparently it was created largely for the purpose of keeping the truth from the public.

In Austria, books, pictures, illustrated catalogues, price lists, handbills, advertisements and advertising literature, newspapers, periodicals and publications which appear occasionally, signs and signboards, posters—in fact, everything that conveys meaning to the mind by means of type, pictures or symbols is subject to censorship. Until recently even private calling or "left" cards were subject to censorship. The printer had to lay a proof of a card before the "press court" before he could deliver the order.

Any district or superior court may, on complaint, issue a "press court" to pass upon and order the confiscation of any newspaper in its jurisdiction.—Vienna Cor. New York Tribune.

Business Man Praises Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

Successful Merchant After Investigation Found a Remedy That Restored his Health.

"This is the strangest thing that has happened to me in the state of Pennsylvania, and I want to devote a part of it in writing a letter to you. On the 26th day of November, 1910, I was stricken with heart trouble. My family physician called it Angina Pectoris. I had from one to five attacks in 24 hours. In the letter part of December, 1910, I wrote to the Miles Medical Co. for information concerning my case, and in reply I received a very kind and instructive letter, which I handed to my family doctor, and he told me to use your Remedies in connection with the medicine he gave me. I did, and used five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and seven bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I was confined to the house for about four months. The action of my heart is now normal, and has been normal for the last six months. I can truly recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Remedy to all who are afflicted for if used according to directions. I thank you kindly for your advice in answer to my monthly reports. I am now sixty-seven years of age, have been in the mercantile business for the last thirty years, and lived retired for the last thirteen years."

"The Story of the Rosary"—Famous War Play Comes to Detroit Week of January 11.

Comstock & Gest will present "The Story of the Rosary", Walter Howard's romantic melodrama of modern war, at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, the week starting Monday, Jan. 11, with popular matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Mail orders are now being received. The reserved seat prices are 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50 evenings, and 50c, 75c and $1.00 both matinees.

The entire cast and production are direct from The Prince's Theatre, London, and come to Detroit after a brilliant and extraordinary successful run at the Manhattan Opera House, New York.

The scene might be any country of continental Europe today. The accoutrements of war are the most modern, and if one desires to see how modern armies look, they need glance no farther than to the stirring battle scene which is Act II in the Howard drama.

The staunch love of an impoverished army captain for an impoverished Princess; the vindictive hatred of that young woman's father; the illy-devised, golden attentions of a rival; the loss of the suitor in the wilderness of war; the plight of his bride of an hour; the persecutions she endures, her turn to the Church in final despair—these are some of the darker threads in a story of absorbing interest—a story which author Howard has made bright by an interweaving of many threads of vivid, keen comedy.

More than 100 actors—not supernumeraries—are seen in the scenes of this great war melodrama. Seats are on sale for all performances except Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, which has been sold to the convention of the National Association of Commission Merchants.

Notice of Settlement

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the late W. I. Ely, for newspapers, magazines, or other services, will confer a favor on the undersigned by calling at the office and making payment at once in order to settle the affairs. The newspaper agency will be placed in new hands on January 10th.
