Martin of Detroit and Miss Iona Chamberlain spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Miss Emma Gildemeister, who has been quite ill, but is rapidly improving in health.

Much favorable comment is heard concerning the very pleasing appearance of Oakwood cemetery west of the village this Spring.
Mr. Peterson, who has charge of the grounds, has certainly put them in excellent shape, and trees and shrubbery as well as the parking present a beautiful appearance.

Milford and Farmington High School base ball teams crossed bats on the local diamond last Saturday afternoon before a good sized crowd of rooters who saw the locals go down to defeat to the tune of 9 to 6.

A bright new line car was put into service on this division of the D. U. R. Tuesday morning, and from a color standpoint at least, it is a scream. The car has been badly needed, as the crew has been handicapped more or less with the old car, which has been in temporary use.

A. L. Craft, county school commissioner asks that we make special mention of the next regular 8th grade examination to be held in Farmington, and other points, Thursday and Friday next. Many local pupils will take the examination, and those who contemplate doing so should read the complete notice published in another column of this issue.

Use Vanteller—Cook & Company sell it.

The oil sprinkler wasn't a bit partial or stogy in their oiling last week, and the D. U. R. tracks in the village naturally got a portion of the "product", much to the discomfort of the several motormen, who had no difficulty in locking the brakes and sliding the wheels.
It presented a rather dangerous aspect at stops for a few days, but luckily no disasters occurred.

Some comment, that has been anything but favorable is to be heard concerning the condition of the streets within the village, especially at the several crossings on Grand River avenue. In fact it has come to the stage of open criticism among autoists, and one need only take a drive down the thoroughfare to be convinced that the criticism is justifiable. Something should be done at the earliest possible date to relieve the condition.
