Correspondents and other contributors to the news columns are requested to send their copy in as early as possible. Many wait until the last of the week with copy that could have been sent to the office on Monday, or even Saturday of the previous week. All of the work on the paper is not done on press day, though that day has been made altogether too strenuous some weeks with late copy. Let contributors adopt the "Do it early" motto and printers will be enabled to present subscribers with a better printed and newsier sheet.
