

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was, and she had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why I did not know of it sooner. I see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital." — Mrs. E. SHELDON, 6637 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, but with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

Might Lose Ball, Too. Two English soldiers, caused some amusement at a golf course the other day. The first man took up and made a mighty stroke, but failed to shift the ball. The miss was repeated no fewer than three times.

His pal was unable to stand it any longer.

Feel Achy All Over?

To ache all over in damp weather, or after taking a cold, isn't natural, and often indicates kidney weakness. Urine acid causes many aches, pains and disorders of the organs. Weak kidneys keep urine acid down. Tired, dizzy, nervous people would do well to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They stimulate the kidneys to activity and so help clear the blood of irritating poisons.

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS SHOW PRESIDENT WILSON RE-ELECTED

Result So Close In Several States That Republicans Demand a Recount--Democrats May Not Have Working Majority In House of Representatives.

President, WOODROW WILSON.
Vice President, THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

New York, Nov. 11.—One of the faces of the unofficial returns, the above is the choice of the American people for the next four years, but the result is so close in several states that Republican leaders are not willing to accept the verdict until a recount of the ballots has been made in those states. The situation is extraordinary and has resulted in days of nerve-racking strain for the people of the country. If the election officials of a few remote precincts in a few states knew how the nation has been waiting breathlessly to hear from them, they must be swelled up enormously with a sense of their importance. For on these few precincts has depended the nation's choice of its chief executive.

That Mr. Wilson's victory over Mr. Hughes will not be conceded without a recount in the close states, such as California, New Hampshire, New Mexico and North Dakota, was determined at conferences of the Republican leaders. Chairman Wilcox asserted a recount would be demanded wherever the margin of Democratic victory was so small that comparatively few votes would turn the scales. He and his associates say they take the position that there should be no cloud upon Mr. Wilson's title to the presidency. The Democrats, for their part, declared that there must be a recount in New Hampshire, even though the returns gave the state to Mr. Wilson.

That the returns are still incomplete is due to the pressure on the border of the National Guard of a number of states. The soldiers are permitted to vote by mail, their ballots being forwarded to the auditors of their home counties, and in Minnesota especially the vote of the Guardians is likely to cut a figure in determining whether the state goes into the Wilson or the Hughes column.

Minnesota was as bad as California in the matter of shifts, and its shifts are nearly as large. It, too, was watched with the intensest interest. Through days and nights of counting, the race was a sea-saw, with but a thousand or so of votes separating the candidates. Neither side would admit defeat, and even now both are awaiting the soldier vote and the official count.

New Hampshire a Surprise.

Perhaps the most surprising of all the states was New Hampshire. It alone of all New England failed to give the Republican candidate a substantial plurality, and for days no one knew in which column it would land. The astonishing closeness of the vote was shown by the rival claims, three days after the election, of 100 plurality for Hughes and 84 for Wilson. In the circumstances it is no wonder that the managers of both parties should demand a recount.

New Mexico, with three electoral votes, attracted national attention by placing itself early in the list of doubtful states, and as it soon appeared that almost every electoral vote would be vital, the returns from down on the border were gazed hot and the wires. After voting had not forth for days, the Wilson column, though there, too, the president's margin was so scant that a basis was afforded for the call for a recount. A few mistakes discovered in the figures of the precinct officials might well swing the state over to Hughes.

Willcox Demands Recount.

On Friday National Chairman Wilcox of the Republican party handed out the following statement:

"The result still depends upon the vote in a few close states. It must be borne in mind that the returns thus far announced are in 35 states, an official, and may be changed by the official count required by the laws of those states.

"Twice during these unofficial computations, yesterday in California and today in additions were announced from that state, substantially changing figures previously given.

"It is a curious circumstance that the result of the official count almost always varies from the returns first announced.

"Where the vote is as close as that reported in several states, it may well be that material changes will result from the official count.

"We owe it to the country to take all necessary steps to see that an exact and honest count of the vote is made. When the current seemed to be running against Mr. Wilson on Wednesday the Democratic managers announced their intention to demand a recount in every close state.

"All we desire is to make sure that the vote is counted as cast."

Both sides conceded that no matter what action might be taken in regard to a recount there was little likelihood of a contest being carried to the house of representatives as it was after the

Woodrow Wilson

Hayes-Tilden campaign in 1876. Legislation enacted in 1837, it was said, made the state sovereign in pronouncing judgment in a recount of the presidential vote.

How Congress Stands.

Congressional election returns, nearly completed, assure President Wilson in the forthcoming administration a Democratic senate, but with five districts still undecided, the best that the Democrats could claim was a plurality of four votes in the house.

Upon the basis of revised returns the Democrats have elected 215 members of the house and the Republicans 211. In addition there have been elected one Independent, one Socialist, one Progressive and one Progressive Protectionist.

Four districts in West Virginia, two of them nominally Democratic, and two Republican, and one district in New Mexico, are still undecided. If these districts do not change, the Democrats will have 217 and the Republicans 214, a plurality of only three.

As there will be four members of other minority parties, a working majority for the Democrats is improbable unless some of the minority members should choose to cast their lot with the administration forces.

The senate, according to latest figures, will consist of 34 Democrats and 42 Republicans, a majority of 12. The Democratic majority in the present senate is 16.

An unusual feature of the result is the election of the first woman to congress, Miss Jeannette Rankin, Republican, apparently having been elected in Montana.

Six States Go Dry.

Prohibitionists are jubilant over the results of the election where prohibition was an issue. From Washington the legislative committee of the Anti-Saloon league issued a statement, saying:

"Prohibition has taken another great leap forward. Michigan has voted for state-wide prohibition by 35,000 majority. Nebraska by 35,000, Montana by 30,000 and South Dakota by 25,000. Idaho has adopted a prohibition constitutional amendment by a majority of 3 to 1. Utah has probably elected a legislature pledged to enact state-wide prohibition. Washington, Iowa, Colorado, Arizona and Kansas have defeated attempts of the liquor people to secure the adoption of proposals which would nullify their prohibitory laws.

"Thus 24 states out of 48—one-half of the states of the Union—have now declared for state-wide prohibition. Women Vote as Do Men. From the general result it is clear

Goos 5,000 Miles to Vote.

Jarrod Valley, V. Va., Nov. 10.—Dr. W. Byrd Hunter voted here, having traveled 5,000 miles, he said, to vote for Wilson. Doctor Hunter is stationed at the bureau of fisheries on the Seal Islands, Alaska.

Guardians in Texas Vote.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 10.—Twelve out of seventeen military organizations of Pennsylvania troops in the field give for president: Hughes, 1,717; Wilson, 1,308. For senator the figures were: Knox, 550; Orvis, 240.

that as the men voted in the suffrage states, so did the women.

In Illinois more women seemed about equally divided as to preference. The state went for Hughes by a big plurality.

In Kansas, Colorado, Montana, Washington, Oregon and California, where women also vote, Wilson was successful, but his pluralities were not sufficiently large to indicate that the woman voters supported him as a unit.

Farm Vote the Factor.

There are several great outstanding facts concerning the result of the election, one of which is that labor, in all the big industrial states except Ohio, declined to give its undivided support to President Wilson despite his claim to it on the score of having persuaded congress to pass the Adamson "eight-hour" bill. New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Indiana, all gave the Republican candidate pluralities, and Ohio's vote in favor of Wilson is not certainly to be attributed to the labor vote.

Another interesting development was the independence of the West, which is asserting that it elected a president without the aid of New York and Pennsylvania and other big western and central states. When it was found early in the evening of election day that the empire state had gone for Hughes, the newspapers of the metropolis, even those that had supported Wilson, conceded the victory to the Republicans, without waiting to hear from the middle West. When the returns came in from these regions, it was found that the farmer and stock raiser had decided the election.

Yet another fact that calls for comment is that Governor Johnson of California, running on the Republican and Progressive tickets, has been elected to the United States senate by something like 300,000 plurality, and yet the state went Democratic on the presidency.

Thomas R. Marshall
