MSU Seniors Wed

Michigan State University seniors Jeanine Kay Grimes and Duane Alan Cook exchanged marriage vows in an afternoon ceremony Saturday, Sept. 15, in the Chapel Hill United Methodist Church of Battle Creek.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Grimes of Battle Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cook of Bristol Avenue, Livonia, are the bridegroom's parents.
The Rev. William Richards officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a white nylon lace gown with sheer sleeves and a full-length veil was of matching lace, and her flowers were blue-tinted daisies and white sweetheart roses.

Anne Glasgow of Jackson, as maid of honor, wore a blue flowered dress and carried blue daisies.
The bridesmaids were Mrs. Catherine Holmes of Okemos, the bride's sister, Sherry Smith of Southfield, her cousin, and Diane Cook of Livonia, sister of the bridegroom.

Bruce Mastny of Livonia was best man. The ushers were Bruce Grimes of Battle Creek and Dennis Cook of Kalamazoo, brothers of the bridal pair, and Leslie Charbonneau.

Brian Holmes of Okemos was ring bearer.
Mrs. Grimes wore a apricot shade, and Mrs. Cook's costume was pale green.
The couple greeted 250 guests at a reception in the church hall before leaving on a honeymoon in the Pokono Mountains.
They will live in University Village, East Lansing. While completing studies at MSU, the new Mrs. Cook is employed by the university computer center and her husband works in the inter-media center.

"You may send it to a prospective employer or you may use it in filling out a job application," she added.
"But in any case it can save time during a job interview and give background for talking about the job."
During a job interview, Mrs. Sanborn said, women returning to the business world should "wear business-like attire - no pants suits, even though you might find later you could wear them on the job."
"Be prepared to tell the prospective employer why you are interested in working for that particular firm," she recommended, "and before you leave ask when he expects to make a decision."
She also suggested an extra job-hunting touch - writing a note to the prospective employer following the interview, thanking him for his time and mentioning some specific matter that was discussed.
Monette, who heads Schoolcraft's new placement office, said the office was set up to help students have the financial resources so that they can complete their studies and give them a better life.

"Many students in all age groups have used the service," he added, "but at this point I have 100 jobs that I can't get kids to fill."
He said he also works with graduating students "because we feel every student worthy of graduation is also worthy of a good job when the training is completed."
Dorothy Smith, an attorney with the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said her office investigates all claims of discrimination in employment - against minority groups as well as women.

"You know, the whole matter of getting women's rights into the 1964 Civil Rights Act started out as sort of a joke," she told the women.
"An opponent of the legislation put it in as an amendment - a ruse to lead Congress to throw the whole thing out. But that move backfired."
