Makes all-league baseball team

Track teams from Farmington and North Farmington scored in the Oakland County meet

Ex-Raider at Ferris

A former North Farmington High School athlete helped Ferris State win the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athlette Conference Baseball title.

Dan Delling, a senior first baseman from Farmington, batted 400 and stole four bases in five attempts as the Ferris Bulldogs posted a 9-3 record, good for the GLIAC title Delling was one of four Bulldogs named to the 1974 all-conference team.

Grand Valley State placed three players, while Northwood and Oakland University each had two played most of his games at Hunnes of Grand Valley were the pitchers receiving all conference honors. Powers, an Owosso sophomore, won three games and lost none in league play, posting an 0.43 ERA. Hunnes, a repeater from last season's champion Laker team, won three and lost two with day.

Southfield did hit well, collecting seven hits, four of them for extra bases.

The Blue Jays jumped on starter Don Hunt for three runs in the first inning after the game was delayed 45 minutes because the umpires were late. Ron Dunkel got on with a walk, one of four given up by Hunt in a wilder-than-usual performance, and was tripled home by Don Fisher. Pisher was out on a fielder's choice by Mike Kelmegian and after Chris Mynic walked, junior Steve Loewy doubled home both players to give Southfield a 3-0 lead.

Farmington got its two runs in field fence by Kelmegian.

Hunt pitched the first five and
1/3 innings, letting us six hits and
1/3 innings, letting us six hits and striking out two. Dave Duele came on in relief in the sixth inning with the bases loaded and one out and got the Falcons out of the inning without letting a run in. Rocky Davis started for the Blue Jays and let up only four hits.

"He did a good job, he threa yound the plate," Roy said. We just haven't been hitting to the right laces. It's strange because we've also cut down on our strikeouts."

LAST WEEK Farmington split

a doubleheader with Pontiac Northern winning the first game, 8-3, and dropping the nightcap, 8-0.

"You could say the doubleheader was for the league title," Roy said. "We had to win both and we didn't. Our pitching has been letting us down. It was good most of the season but lately its been falling apart. The exception is Dan Perry."

Perry was indeed an exception as he pitched the first game of the doubleheader and struck out 12 Northern batters.

"He's done a nice job, 'Roy said of Perry, a junior. "He used to have a tendency to be wild but now he's really come along."

out on a fielder's choice by Mike Kelmegian and after Chris Mytnic walked, junior Steve Loewy doubled home both players to give Southfield a 3-0 lead. Farmington got its two runs in the second on a single by Ken Di-Rocco and, after a fielder's choice by Dave Duelo, a triple by Bob Holton. Holton came in on an infeld single by Steve Konis. "He beat it out," said Roy, "Steve's got pretty good speed." Southfield scored its last two runs on a double by Fisher and a 260-foot home run over the left field fence by Kelmegian.

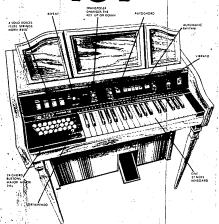

Hunt pitched the first five and 128 innime."

Handball victors

Sam Sak and Rubin Miller, both of Southfield, won the doubles championship of the Southfield Athletic Club Handball Tournament last Sunday at the Southfield Civic Center. Sak and Miller defeated Dr. Alvin August of Parimington and Hyman Friedman of Oak Park, 20-21, 21-20, 21-13. The SAC singles handball tournament will be completed this week.
