

Elderly People Helped

The last years of life are the most precious, and yet the most difficult to prolong. It is the greatest care is exercised in maintaining bodily health. But the chief are should always be with regard to the food they eat and whether you are digesting it properly. You should not allow yourself to become constipated.

No doubt you have heard of the various cathartic pills, purgative tablets, etc., and have come to the conclusion that they are violent in action and do but temporary good. Listen, then, to the voice of experience, and take a course of the wonderful mild laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is not only safe and agreeable to use, but it is the only one that will send you a trial bottle free of charge. It will send you a trial bottle free of charge. It will send you a trial bottle free of charge.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully, and no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 20 Caldwell Bldg., Mottlith, Ill.

This is the convincing way in which an agricultural editor pleads the cause of the calf. "When you get to the calf remember patience. He doesn't understand your deal—whether you want to veal him, torpedo him or nurture him. Have a prayer—learned at the maternal knee—on your lips as you proceed. Tickle his slimy voracious nose with the tips of your fingers. As you become more deeply absorbed and things are doin', don't forget the prayer. Hypotically your calm state of mind will lead bossy to the light, and bumping his lumber spine he will go for his mess like a Jap after a Russian cruiser, rising at intervals to blow the token of his happy dip on the rim of your bib overalls. But remember, 'he's a calf—the same as you used to be."

Owing to the generally recognized truth that the average man will not work as well for another as he will for himself, he should aim as soon as possible to own the land which he works. On the other hand, many men owing to lack of ability to plan, and manage never do so well when working for themselves as when under the supervision of another. In such cases one does better to continue in the employment of another, making his service as effective as possible that he may get the best return possible for it.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS.

The State Fair Grounds and Buildings Worth Nearly Half Million Dollars.

The Michigan State Fair was organized sixty years ago and during most of the time until it was established in Detroit its fight for existence has been strenuous. Many times the clouds of failure hovered dangerously near, but owing to the determined efforts of friends it has finally been established on a firm financial basis.

Five years ago the fair was permanently located in Detroit, because it was believed that with so large a population to draw attendance from, the chances of success would be much brighter.

There were only $17,000 in the treasury when the fair was first located in Detroit. The lot across owned by the society cost $48,000. Detroit business men at once came to the aid of the society and donated property. As a result large, ornate and beautiful buildings were erected, as were also a grand stand with a seating capacity of 1,000. The stock barn, a race track, band stand and many other buildings. The grounds were graded into streets with clear driveways and fire escapes, fences erected and various other improvements made until now the property represents an investment of nearly half a million dollars.

Against this half a million dollar plant, there is only an indebtedness of $100,000. The great portion of which is covered by the original bond issue.

Most other State Fairs are owned by the state, in which they are located, but every effort is turned over to the state has failed. Michigan should support the State Fair and help to build it. The Minnesota and Iowa state legislatures have appropriated large sums for new equipment and the improvement of the grounds to do the same. This fair is purely a state institution and should have the support of every person in both the upper and lower peninsula.

GREAT RACING AT THE FAIR.

Finest Animals in the World Will Meet September 2-10.

No single feature of a State Fair attracts more people on its own account than the racing. If it is of sufficient merit, the fact is well known by the power that have been and those that are in the Michigan Agricultural Society is shown in the completeness of the department. The steel grand stand, the magnificent mile track, the spacious and beautiful stables, representing in all an outlay of over $100,000, show what is thought of the harness horse at the Michigan State Fair.

There is no more complete plant than that just outside of Detroit, where the big fair is held each year. The track was rebuilt last year at a cost of $10,000 and now presents the composite surface, so successful at Memphis, the pattern after which other tracks are cut.

The fact that at the State Fair of 1908 no less than nine of the best 2:10 in winning heats on the track and at the blue ribbon meeting that year a number of world records were demolished shows what a track Michigan has. It is the talk of the country among racing men, and is one of the only ones where the same track used for the State Fair and the grand circuit, affording the fairgoers an opportunity of seeing horses race on the fastest piece of dirt out of doors.

The equipments are perfect. Such is the growth of the popularity of the sport of the auto that each year sees additional demand for stabling, and this summer a new barn with a capacity of fifty has been completed. In all 300 horses can be housed in roomy box-stalls in the speed barn, and because of the general desire to stroll down and take a look at the fine drivers of the society have had laid a continuation of the concrete walks which now run past the cattle, sheep, swine and speed barns—an excellent idea.

In the past the fair has been fortunate in attracting a good class of horses, and there is no reason why there will be an improvement this year. A new fair at Kalamazoo opened on August 30, and in connection with it there will be a big horse meeting. The Kalamazoo stakes have attracted an unusual number of horses, and to Detroit, where the State Fair race program opens September 6 and continues for five afternoons, the State Fair is a number of Michigan breeders of the society will contribute, so from all sources it promises to assemble a lot of fast and clever race horses.

In addition to the fifteen races scheduled for the five afternoons there will be a great attraction on September 10, when the Dan Patch 1:55, the unbeaten champion of the world, will race against Minor Hair, 1:59 1/2, his most formidable rival. They will go one heat; the idea being to lower the world's record below two minutes, which the trainer of the horses says he will be able to do if the weather and track are right. It will be the most spectacular event ever known to the light harness turf, solitary exhibitions of great time and speed in a shadow, in comparison with this struggle from wire to wire.

The program, with the added attraction, is one of the greatest ever offered by a state fair and will serve to keep Michigan's yearly outlay in the forefront. The regular race card for Monday, September 6—2:10, 3:30, 4:50, 6:10, 7:30, 8:50, 10:10, 11:30, 12:50, 2:15, 3:35, 4:55, 6:15, 7:35, 8:55, 10:15, 11:35, 12:55, 2:20, 3:40, 5:00, 6:20, 7:40, 9:00,
