Halston recalls Hollywood look

If you like Hollywood, you'll love Halston. Particularly his sequined gowns and pajamas that do little else but glimmer and glow.

The Halston fall collection, recently at Jacobson's, lacks the savvy of his past seasons. The line remains dominated by his ultra-suede suits and shirtdresses or clings to visions of a glittery past.

He does strike an innovative tone with his neckline treatment. Using draping techniques and fluid jerseys he softens necklines in wrapped, tied or hanging variations.

In ultra-suede he introduces a sparkling white shirtdress. In the same fabric, but with shades of fall, he creates his big look featuring a zipped, high collared jacket and wider skirt.

It is his evening line that evokes thoughts of Jean Harlow and Hollywood starlets. In shimmering silver, black and navy blue the gowns have too much macho for this season of femininity and covering-up.

If anything, Halston's collection is consistent from one year to the next. If you bought Halston last year, you definitely don't need much from his fall line-up.

Fall dance opens drive

The annual fall dinner dance of the Armenian Relief Society's Sophia Chapter will be held Saturday at Pine Lake Country Club in Orchard Lake.

Through an integrated program of educational cultural and humanitarian services, the society is dedicated to furthering human welfare in Armenian communities both nationally and internationally.

The society supports many and operates other Armenian language classes and recently helped establish an Armenian Day School in the metropolitan area. It also aids students in their studies abroad in Armenian education centers, and scholarships are given regularly to students studying at the college level.

THROUGH financial aid from the society, thousands of students are given an education in areas where public schools do not exist. Hot lunches are furnished through the society to undernourished children, through the "Plate of Food" program in the Midwest.

Each year scholarships are given to children to attend Camp Hoianston in Franklin, Mass.

At the dinner dance this year, there will be two bands, one Armenian, and the other providing American dancing music. The hors d'oeuvres table will hold all Armenian appetizers.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. Reservations may be made by contacting Maureen Najarian, 524-9724 or Maïya Korkigian, 626-7954.
