YWCA opens annual drive

The annual YWCA membership drive began Monday and will continue through May 3, according to Doris Bergan, metropolitan membership chairperson. The goal for this year's drive has been set at 6,962 memberships and $68,838. The importance of YWCA support through continued memberships is being stressed this year. "The YWCA is a great membership organization," said Mrs. Bergan. "This year with skyrocketed costs and unemployment, we find ourselves with a real challenge to keep up with our budget. Although it is true we are a Torch Drive

Agency, we pay more than 64% of our own way. Our membership drive is one of the ways we accomplish this." The YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit operates six branches. Oakland Branch, 839 S. Crooks Road, Clawson, is the second largest YWCA in the nation. This year, the theme "Woman's Place is Everywhere" reinforces the YWCA's 110-year commitment to women and girls. Classes, discussion groups, teenage programs and general programs have attracted a steady stream of women, girls, men and boys.
