

Wide variety in OU offerings

Oakland University's division of continuing education will offer some non-degree courses on Saturday for the first time in the winter 1976 term.

which will begin the week of Jan. 19.

Fishermen and needleworkers can pursue their respective interests on Saturday mornings. New courses in English creel design, weaving without a loom, and lectures of fly fishing are scheduled from 9:30-11:30 a.m., beginning Jan. 24, on the campus in Rochester. Creel and weaving are five-week courses. Fly fishing is an eight-week course.

Saturday courses also include the new "effective writing in medicine," to be held from noon to 2 p.m., and Medical Terminology II, scheduled from 10 a.m. to noon.

A special course for everyone caught up in celebration of the nation's bicentennial will begin Tuesday, Jan. 13. University faculty from various disciplines will speak on issues of contemporary and historical interest in the University Forum-Bicentennial Lecture Series, to be held from 7-9 p.m., Tuesday evenings for 10 weeks in four sites, including Bloomfield Hills and Farmington, Utica and Waterford. Credit for the lecture series can be obtained through the evening program office.

Of the 112 nondegree courses offered during the upcoming winter term, 34 are new. The courses, usually held in the evenings on campus, are offered in business, communication, computers, investment, legal, management, medical, technical, and real estate.

A potpourri of courses also are conducted for special interests ranging from photography to behavioral and psychology studies.

THE AREAS of business and investment include a timely course of preparing income tax returns, offered for six weeks beginning Monday, Jan. 19. "Practical policies, procedures and techniques of purchasing," scheduled for eight weeks will begin Thursday, Jan. 22.

Four new 10-week computer courses are scheduled. "Assembler Language IBM-380" will begin Monday, Jan. 19. "Structure Programming" on Tuesday, Jan. 20. "Basic Systems Analysis and Design," on Wednesday, Jan. 21, and "Report Program Generator Programming," on Thursday, Jan. 22. A new course for legal assistants in Estate Planning and Documents, offered for 10 weeks beginning Wednesday, January 21.

In the management area a new course entitled "Management by Objectives for Results," will be offered for 18 weeks beginning Thursday, Jan. 22. This course will explore the best route to manager-employee understanding in budgets, appraisals, wages and other areas.

A second new medical course is scheduled, in addition to Effective Writing in Medicine on Saturday mornings. Human Anatomy and Physiology II will be conducted for 10 weeks, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 21.

FOR TECHNICIANS, new five-week courses are offered in Understanding and Interpreting Blueprints, beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20, and Reaction Injection Molding, beginning Thursday, Jan. 22.

In the areas of special interests a range of new courses is available. "Writing for Film & TV," a 10-week course, and "Parliamentary Procedures," a five-week course, will meet beginning Monday, Jan. 19. Conversational Spanish and French both are offered in classes beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20.

A presentation of the "Middle East at the Crossroads of History" will be instructed by authority Russell C. Barnes, of Birmingham, beginning Thursday, Jan. 22. Students will draw their own conclusions from five classes of backgrounding by Barnes, former special assistant to the American Ambassador to Egypt, American Press Officer at the Cairo and Tehran Conferences, and Correspondent at the United Nations Hearings in Jerusalem.

Exploring behavior in order to relax, understand or modify it in everyday life are subjects of the new behavior and psychology offerings. The new courses, Aspects of the Psychological Continuum, Meditation for Practical Living and Principles of Behavior Modification begin Thursday, Jan. 22.

A variety of real estate courses, including a course to prepare people to sit for the state salesman license examination, are available from 7-10 p.m. beginning Monday, Jan. 19. In response to phone inquiry a brochure detailing these and the many other popular repeat courses will be mailed. Registration can be made by phone at the Continuing Education office, Jan. 5 through 19.

If you don't give us your business, we're both losing money.

Volunteers

This column describing volunteer needs in Oakland County is co-sponsored by the Junior League of Birmingham and the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau.

Inquiries regarding volunteer needs listed here should be made to the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau at 603-772. Requests for volunteer listings should also be made through the Volunteer Bureau.

NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE, Rochester, provides a 24-hour telephone answering service, referral services, emergency food and clothing and houses various counseling agencies. Drivers are needed to transport people to doctor's appointments, grocery shopping, etc. Volunteers are also needed to man the telephones in the office once a week from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. or from 12:30 to 4 p.m. No training is required.

OPERATION FRIENDSHIP is a re-socialization program for former mental patients 18 years and over. Sessions are held for members from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. each week during which a meal is served and social activities are planned. Volunteers are needed to socialize with members and participate in activities. The sessions are on Tuesdays and Thursdays in Royal Oak; on Tuesdays in Birmingham and on Fridays in Pontiac. A critical need for volunteers exists in Pontiac. People with special craft skills who would like to share them with members in Royal Oak are needed in Royal Oak on Thursdays. Training sessions are held once a month, no previous training is required. A weekly volunteer commitment is required. Volunteers are also needed to provide transportation to and from the sessions for members.

Y offers free counseling

Free introductory counseling on Thursday afternoons will begin Jan. 8 at the Northwest branch YWCA, 2300 Grand River, Redford Township.

Beginning on that date, a counselor will be available at the branch with expertise to deal with problems with alcohol, in marriage, or other adjustment problems.

Hours will be 2-4 p.m. for the program sponsored jointly by the YWCA and Intervention, Inc.

Counseling will be by appointment, and times may be arranged by calling the YW. Those who prefer not to leave names will be assigned numbers.

This opportunity to have an introductory conference with a counselor makes it possible for persons who think they might need help with problems get the chance to evaluate them. If further counseling seems desirable, referral will be made by the counselor on duty.
